TUESDAY MORNING, JUNE 29, 1838.

The circulation of "The News" is double that of any paper in the State or city of Providence. At the office of publication every facility is had for the execution of all kinds of Book & Job Printing with neatness and dispatch.

The quarrel between this country and Great Britain sought to be got up by the administration has assumed an aspect which our government did not anticipate. Gen. Cass professed great horror at the existence of the Slave trade, and strong desires for its abolition, but that the administration could not at all tolerate the right in the British government to visit, or search American vessels under any circumstances of suspicion, as an auxiliary to the suppression of the great evil. The British government tacitly, at least, say true, we had no right to visit or search American vessels, and that we are willing to make any just reparation for any wrong which has been done the American commerce by our cruisers, and that we are anxious to enter into some additional treaty stipulations to suppress the horrid traffic in human flesh which both your government and ours so sincerely reprobates. This position of the Prime minister of England, puts to a test the sincerity of the professions of the administration, and the result will show its honesty in its professions of abhorrence to the existence of this nefarious traffic.

The administration have got in a "tight place" in this business. In the first instance they professed to be anxious for a fight with the view of getting somebody to hold them; but the Republicans would not do it, and here, the President was disappointed. Now they profess to Great Britain to desire to put down the Slave trade, and Great Britain calmly replies "let us put it down." To this earnest, pointed and humane proposition, on the part of Great Britain, the policy of the country, and the honor of the administration is committed.

THE CROPS.—The warm weather of the last few days is highly favorable for the crops in all sections of the country. The capricious and variable weather of the last spring, with the injuries caused by the floods at the West, render it impossible to describe in general terms the condition of the growing crops. The New York Journal of Commerce, however, after giving numerous reports from various sections of the country, comes to the conclusion that, "taken as a whole, there is nothing as yet, to indicate that the country is likely to suffer from either a plethora or deficiency in the growing crops."

The New York Commercial gives an extract from a letter from a Cincinnati house to a firm in New York, which says:

"The alarm as to short crops in the West has in a great measure subsided. The crisis is past, and the worst fears are over. The Wheat crop will be a good one in Ohio and the adjoining States. It may be somewhat injured, but more in croaking than in reality. Our friends in Michigan say that their State has never produced so large a crop of wheat so good in quality. The hay and oat crop will be very large, and as to the corn crop, a failure in this has never been known in the history of this country; a half crop will be quite as much as we shall want this year. Most of the uplands have been planted, and will yield well. The Scioto valley, which is a great corn producing country, was not planted last year until after the 1st of July, and yet a very large crop was gathered. Three-fourths of the crop of Indiana was not planted until after the 20th of June. The feeling is general that the crop in the West will be abundant, notwithstanding the croakers."

ROWING BY LADIES.—A correspondent of the Cheltenham Examiner, calls attention to the practice now becoming prevalent at the Pittville Spa, of ladies taking boat exercise on the lake. He says: "There is no excuse that I know of more calculated to expose the chest and give a healthy tone to the system generally, than that of rowing. Followed in moderation, it is an amusement which ladies, and particularly the young, do well to patronize. It calls into healthy action the whole muscular system without inducing that degree of fatigue which the same amount of exercise in any other way is apt to engender." It is no uncommon thing, we (Cheltenham Examiner) understand, to see parties of ladies thus amusing themselves by the hour in "padding the light canoe." The Emperor of France spends a couple of hours every day at Fontainebleau, rowing, his Majesty's physicians having recommended that form of taking exercise.

We copy the above extract for the benefit of the lady readers of our paper. We can conceive of no more healthy recreation or exercise than that referred to above.—And in no place can it be enjoyed to better advantage than in Newport. There are few mornings here in summer when the surface of the water is not sufficiently smooth to render it both safe and pleasant for ladies to engage in this exercise. And then, too, there is no place in the world where the air upon the water is more pure and invigorating than with us. Let those who have daughters and sisters set the example and introduce "the fashion," and when this is done, we may expect to see club-boats "manned" by young ladies, which shall vie in speed with those of the other sex.

Protection Engine Company No. 5 turned out yesterday afternoon, to wash the flag staff in front of the house of Aquidneck Co., No. 3. The staff is 166 feet high. With a single stream they played over it. With two they came short ten feet.

CELEBRATION.—Read Young's "Programme" in another column for the Fourth. Young's will doubtless be the great centre of attraction on that day.

Major Felch arrived in town yesterday, "bag and baggage," and will exhibit his magnificent MIRROR OF ITALY at Aquidneck Hall to-morrow night.

The mowing match takes place this morning in the lot south of the Ocean House.

The inhabitants of Azore Islands are again suffering all the horrors of a famine.

LOCAL NEWS.

YACHT WARREN HORSFORD.—Persons wishing to visit Fort Adams, will find this superior pleasure boat at Bannister's Wharf, or may leave their orders at the United States Hotel*. The W. H. is a new boat, the largest in our harbor, and is commanded by Capt. T. E. Ash, who has had forty years' experience as a boatman. The Warren Horsford may also be chartered on reasonable terms for pleasure parties, for which she is particularly fitted, being very commodious. Not the least recommendation for this boat, is the fact that she has been selected by the officers of the Port at the passage boat for themselves, soldiers and families between there and the city.

PORT ADAMS.—This fortification at the entrance of Newport Harbor, is unquestionably one of the finest in the country, and one which we think it would puzzle an enemy's fleet to pass. A brief visit is sufficient to convince one of this. With the guns and mortars of this fort turned upon it, a hostile fleet would stand a hundred chances of descending to the regions of Davy Jones to one of passing up the river. Those monster guns that now slumber so peacefully on and within its walls, mounted with Yankees and charged with Yankee powder and balls, would be quite certain to give an enemy a suitable reception.

Port Adams is now garrisoned with 74 men, comprising Company I, First Artillery. Strangers in Newport should not fail to pay this fort a visit, which there is full liberty for them to do at all times.

THE MILITARY CELEBRATION.—The military celebration in Providence for next Monday has been abandoned, after two-thirds the required sum of money had been raised, the soldiers having vetoed the measure, believing it unconstitutional to parade them in the trudging sun of a July day for the gratification of a gaping multitude. If our Providence friends will come down here, the Beach shall be at their service for a wholesome wash, which we opine would have a salutary effect on the constitutions of some of the denizens of that hot and dusty city. Charter a boat and come down, and bring your aunts and cousins.

ACTIVE PREPARATIONS.—Active preparations are being made for the opening of the magnificent Mirror of Italy, at Aquidneck Hall, to-morrow evening, when we may expect to witness one of the best, if not the best entertainment ever in Newport. We are heartily glad it is to be on exhibition here, and have no doubt it will receive a liberal patronage from our intelligent citizens. The high moral character of this exhibition is well established, and it being of such an instructive nature every scholar should see it. We hear that brilliant musical attractions are to accompany the paintings.

FLIES AND MOLASSES.—A gentleman who has given it a twenty years' trial, bands us the following for the benefit of grocers.

At this season of the year, when flies are most annoying to grocers, by swarming in their molasses measures, an effectual remedy is to hang the latter upon a nail or peg immediately after using. It is a most singular circumstance, but a fly will never enter a measure so hung up. At least, so says our correspondent.

EAST GREENWICH.—Steamer New Clinton will touch at East Greenwich on her way to Bristol and Fall River to-day and to-morrow, leaving here at 2 o'clock, P. M., as usual,—to accommodate such as may wish to attend the anniversary exercises of the Conference Seminary. She will also touch at the same place on Thursday morning for Newport. Fare 50 cents each way.

HORSES KILLED.—Mr. H. H. Young, Parade Corner, lost a valuable horse last Saturday. Mr. Y.'s boy had taken him to the fountain to water, and returning to the stable the animal drew back upon the halter and rearing up lost his balance, fell backwards on his skull and died instantly. The horse was valued by Mr. Y. at one hundred and fifty dollars.

THOSE HAVING OCCASION.—Those having occasion for pleasure teams, should apply to Mr. Anthony Stewart, next to the Post Office, Pelham street, who keeps the best and fastest horses and lightest carriages in the city. He also runs a line of omnibuses to the beach during the summer season, with obliging and careful drivers. You will always find Mr. S. and his teams all right.

PROTECTION ENGINE COMPANY.—Protection Engine Company No. 5 turned out yesterday afternoon, to wash the flag staff in front of the house of Aquidneck Co., No. 3. The staff is 166 feet high. With a single stream they played over it. With two they came short ten feet.

CELEBRATION.—Read Young's "Programme" in another column for the Fourth. Young's will doubtless be the great centre of attraction on that day.

YOUR HEART OR YOUR MONEY!

In our limited space, it is our aim to avoid lengthy extracts, but the following appears to apposite to the season, that we give it entire. The truth of it is vouch'd for by a Missouri correspondent of Harper's Monthly.

Not a hundred miles from here, some six months ago lived a fair widow, possessed of those shining qualities that most dazzle and charm the bachelor. She was young, handsome and very wealthy. Mrs. Jackson took an Eastern tour last summer, and was besieged by many actors—ardent and anxious lovers—among whom was a Kentucky lawyer, quite a promising man, but so enamored did he become of this fair widow, that he left a lucrative practice at home, and followed her through the entire route of fashionable travel.—He met her at Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York; he danced with her at Saratoga and Newport; and when the season was drawing to a close, he happened to be with her at Niagara, and on the Ohio river, and even at St. Louis, when she was almost home. He was almost always pleading professional business as the reason for his excursions here and there; but he managed to plead his own suit out of court when courting the widow, though he saw no evidence of a verdict coming in his favor. At length Mrs. Jackson stopped on board the boat at St. Louis, to go up the Missouri to her own residence, when, to her surprise, the indefatigable advocate presented himself, as fresh as a May morning. The widow exclaimed, as she met him:—

"Why, Mr. Jones, I thought you were going to Louisville!"

"Mrs. Jackson, my dear madam," replied the lawyer, "I am here to renew the offer of my hand, and beg your acceptance."

"Really, sir, I think I have been sufficiently explicit, and that you had no encouragement to pursue the matter."

"But I hoped, madam, that my devotion and perseverance would be fitly rewarded."

"Do you mean, then," said the widow evidently softened, "that you really had no other business in going this journey with me than to prosecute this suit?"

"None in the world, but the hope of winning you."

"Then you shall be rewarded," she replied with a merry twinkle in her roguish, beautiful eyes, which the lawyer mistook for a sweeter passion, "then, my dear sir, you shall be rewarded. Tell me now as a gentleman, how much money you have spent on this tour?"

"Do you really wish to know?"

"Certainly, I do."

"Mr. Jones took out his note book, and soon reported that he had spent nearly five hundred dollars.

"Well," said the lovely widow, "I do not wish any one to lose by me," extending her purse to the lawyer.

"Why, what do you mean, Mrs. Jackson?"

"I mean what I say; take it; take it, and pay yourself for your summer's work on my account, and let us be quits."

And he did take it; and the widow had no money to get home. The widow was taken all at once by the lawyer's acceptance of the gold, but he consoled himself with the idea that if she would not be his bride, she was at least fair game.

BENEFITS OF ADVERTISING IN NEWSPAPERS.—This was well illustrated a short time since, by the experience of one of our business men who had a lot of goods to dispose of. He had printed a large number of handbills, which were circulated very extensively, and at the same time advertised in the newspapers. His customers flocked to him, and he had the curiosity to ask how they heard of his goods, and the invariable answer was that the information was obtained from the newspaper. A gentleman walking the streets of Boston, saw a boy distributing handbills, throwing them hither and thither, on the door steps and sidewalks, while immediately behind followed an old rag picker, who carefully gathered up what was so profusely scattered in his path, aptly illustrating the benefits of sending printed notices for delivery about the streets. It is desired to sell anything or to give any information to the public, the only sure method is to advertise. A word to the wise—

Mr. John Dally of Oceola, Clark county, Iowa, writes to the Indianapolis Journal, that the stories of large quantities of gold having been found in Iowa are all false.

Mr. D. says that he lives in the vicinity of the Clark county mines.

MEDICINES.

MEDICINES.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. AYRA'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill by the medical profession of this age, physicians, and their effects than they have virtue which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known.

The Howard Association, in view of the awful destruction of human life, caused by sexual diseases, and the deceptions practised upon the unfortunate victims of such diseases by quacks, several years ago directed their consulting Surgeon, as a Charitable Act worthy of their name, to open a Dispensary in all treatment of this class of diseases in all their forms to give Medical Advice.

The effect of this medicine is most wonderful—it acts directly upon the bowels and blood, removing all obstructions, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy far greater than any thing which men have known before.
